MANNING DYNAMITE BOMBS

Ammunition And Men Sent To The Forts.

SAY THERE WILL BE NO WAR.

Navy Department Has Formulated a Plan of Campaign to Quickly Cripple Spain.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Feb. 21—Everybody in authority here says there will be no war, but despite the fact ammunition is being forwarded to the forts at Sandy Hook and Wilets Point on the sound. More artillerymen have been added to each of the forts. Soldiers are being transferred at night and no visitor is allowed near the Atlantic seacoast forts. Secret orders have been sent out by Commander Merritt of the department of the east. An order has also been issued to man the dynamite batteries at Sandy Hook. They have never before been manned. Work is being rushed in the navy yard at Norfolk. Sunday was no day of rest at the iron works in Baltimore. Work has been resumed on the fort in Baltimore.

A PLAN OF ATTACK.

The navy department has devised a plan to attack the Spanish possessions so that immediately after a declaration of war a series of quick sharp bombardments may be carried out and the Spanish forces be badly crippled.

AN ENJOYABLE CONCERT.

The Karger Company Pleases a Large Audience at the Opera House.

The Karger Concert Company gave a concert at the opera house last evening that was greatly enjoyed by the large audience that was present. When Max Karger made his debut before crowded houses in New York, his performances were greeted with unbounded enthusiasm, and he has since been known as the young American violin virtuoso. In his playing last night, he displayed a wonderful mastery of an instrument that is regarded by many as the grandest of all for the production of music.

Mr. Karger was assisted in the concert by Miss Jeannette McClanahan, Mr. S. P. Veron and Miss Marie Mildred Marsh, each one of whom contributed much to the success of the evening.

Miss McClanahan's selections seemed to be particularly pleasing to the audience, and her rendition of "Dixie," in response to an encore, won for her prolonged and repeated applause, to which she was compelled to respond.

Mr. Veron possesses a deep rich voice, the fine cultivation of which was evident in the delightful manner in which his difficult songs were rendered. Miss Marsh proved herself an artist in piano music, and in solo as well as in accompaniments, won the plaudits of her auditors.—Lynchburg News, 15.

The grounds cover sixty acres of thoroughly cleared land, well fenced in, and covered with a thick growth of rye, which will be kept short by a flock of more than a hundred sheep. A large force of men have been at work on the links, which are now in good condition. Many good golfers are with us and anxiously awaiting the opening day.—Pinehurst Outlook.

THE NAVY YARD FLOODED

Brooklyn, Feb. 21—The navy yard is flooded with a rush of recruits to join the navy. All nationalities are represented, but only Americans are accepted.

Captain Eulatt, of the Vizcaya, has made a formal call at Admiral Bunce's office. The officers of the Vizcaya will decline a reception in their honor.

The President will leave early this afternoon for Philadelphia, where he will address the students of Pennsylvania University tomorrow, which is Pennsylvania day. He will return tomorrow.

NO MORE EXPLOSIONS.

Havana, Feb. 31—There was no truth in the report that another explosion occurred in the wreck of the Maine as might be inferred from the reports sent out from Key West.

COURT OF INQUIRY BEGINS.

Havana, Feb. 21—The court of inquiry has arrived on board the steamer Mangrove and investigations into the Maine disaster will be begun immediately.

Long Range Projectiles Being Made for the Navy.

Reading, Pa., Feb. 20—The present Government orders on the books of the Carpenter Steel Company will keep that industry rushing out projectiles at its present rate for at least a year to come. The capacity of the place, reckoning a proportionate share of each size projectile, is about 800 a week. Two shipments of 60,000 pounds each were made this week. The projectiles are sent to various points among other States Island; Brooklyn and Washington. The sizes of the projectiles made at this place range from four to 14 inches. The latter at 11 miles, can pierce a plate of great thickness. The sunken battleship Maine had a quantity of Carpenter projectiles on board.

An official of the company said today: "The United States government has commanded us not to communicate anything to newspapers and these are my instructions. Whether the government is preparing for

THE TRUE POLICY.

In reply to a speech of Senator Mason of Illinois, in which he had made insinuations of bad faith against the officers of our navy, Mr. Wolcott stated so luminously the only true policy of this government that it is herewith given:

"Mr. President, I speak as one who sympathizes deeply with the citizens of the unfortunate islands now engaged in this terrible, deplorable conflict. I yield to nobody in my desire to see the conclusion of that war, but I do say, if there was a moment when we should abstain from outrageous and gratuitous insult to a friendly nation, that time is today. If ever there was a time when we should lend our help to every department of the government it should be today. If there was ever a time when we should refrain from unjust and ignorant criticism, it is today. Ah, Mr. President, war may come. I think myself the day may be not far distant, and when it comes we will fight it alone, for there will be no other nation to lift a hand to fight for us. When the day does come our course must be eternally grounded in the right and until it comes there is nothing that can so belittle this people in my opinion, as these unjust and outrageous attacks upon a friendly government. Ah, Mr. President, war is grim decision, and when it comes, it must come in such a way that the people of the world, whether they fight with us or not, can at least respect our conduct and our position, and above all, Mr.
President, it must come under circumstances which make us respect ourselves."

There you have it in one paragraph.
Not the boisterousness of the braggart nor the overbearing manner of the bully, but the calm and sanity of conscientious power, of an unalterable determination to do exact justice.

There are, perhaps, some troublesome times ahead of us, both internally and externally. We cannot, for one moment, afford to be in the wrong. The pettiness and pettiness of men who,
in the public eye, like Senator Mason, will descend to abuse the navy or insult another power is most contemptible.

Reputation wins the first round in the Wilkes county bond case, as it has in all the others. But presently Uncle Sam will take a hand in this business, and he'll say what's what.— Charlotte Observer.

Possibly, but all the same it is a pretty sad day when the federal government has to compel a county or state to pay its debts. There might be two opinions also as to the wisdom of twitting the repudiationists with possible compulsion from a federal source, but let that pass.

The newspapers and congress have done enough to becloud the Maine disaster but wait until the naval experts begin operations in the monthly magazines.

Even the Metropolitan dailies did not attempt to report the remarks of the Woman's Suffrage Convention, which became silent yesterday.

The governor's mansion is gradually becoming firmly annexed as an ante-room to the United States Senate.

There are not wanting indications that the negro John Evans convicted in Rockingham court of assault is not guilty. There was of course much sentiment against the negro at the time and the jury was perhaps influenced by it. There was not a right seeming about the verdict. The majority of people who followed the evidence believe the negro innocent. He has been several times relieved and should be again until the matter can be looked into thoroughly. It is as essential to the triumph of justice that the innocent should escape as that the guilty should suffer punishment.

Mr. Goddard, who proposes to go in search of Andree in a balloon must be possessed of a most stalwart faith in the powers and good intentions of his guardian angel.

The Spanish warship Vizcaya did not show any premature enthusiasm for rushing into the harbor and embracing the feet of Greater New York.

It would be more seemly for the American sailor dead to sleep on American soil.

M. Zola can take to his bosom the assurance of large advance sales for his next novel.

Still Able to Crawl.

The Atlantic cable was rudely shocked in conveying to this country the mournful news that Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, the Arctic lecturer, had brutally criticised the United States, their people, and their customs, as soon as he could obtain a reportorial interview on European soil. Now comes the horrible information that Mr.
Anthony Hope, known among his intimate friends and trusted relatives as Hawkins, began to berate our unfortunate land and landlubbers the moment he set foot upon his own little island. For a Norwegian and an Englishman to join thus emphatically in disapproving of us is a calamity almost too heavy to bear, and yet our people, who have always been noted for their pluck in the face of misfortune, are still crawling around slowly as an indication that they are alive.— Norfolk Landmark.

"Ah?"

There is a well defined movement on foot in the state to effect a fusion between the democrats and populists. If Senator Butler was sincere in the address which was sent out from Minneapolis a few days ago over his name, he must favor fusion in this state with the democrats and with the silver republicans, of the latter of whom Dr.
J. J. Mott is at the head. If it is effected Mr. Butler will be at the head of the combination because he will have had most to do in effecting it and because he will be the wildest politician in the aggregation.

It will suit some people exactly to have the Observer—and it gladly gives them that pleasure—that it, for one, does not propose to march under Mr.
Marion Butler's banner.—Charlotte Observer.

We've Had a Plenty.

Lots of the "traders" of '96 are still on the State democratic executive committee and it seems to us that it might not be a bad idea to shift some of them right in the beginning. The bargain business nearly ruined the democratic party and it must have no more of it.—King's Weekly.

A sixty-foot whale has been killed on the North Carolina coast. No political scandal has started concerning it, but doubtful there will, as it resembled Marion Butler, in that it was a rago.

BLAZING OIL IGNITES A HOUSE.

Colonel Bowen's Home at Haverford Laid in Ashes.

Haverford, Pa., Feb. 19.—At 5:30 this evening fire broke out in the cellar of the residence of Colonel E. R.
Bowen, on Avonwood road, and destroyed the entire building. Not an article of furniture or clothing was saved. The origin of the fire was a leaking barrel of oil. While Mr.
Bowen, carrying a tallow candle, was looking for the leak, the oil was ignited and burst out in a blaze that compelled him to beat a retreat to save his life. Colonel Bowen's loss on furniture is $1,500, covered by insurance. The house, owned by W. A.
Fisher, represents a loss of $3,500, also insured.

Rescued From a Blazing Vessel.

Southampton, Feb. 19.—The Russian bark Brayo was destroyed by fire here today. The crew were rescued but most of them were unconscious when taken off the vessel. No lives were lost.

ACTOR SCANLAN DEAD.

Not Unexpected End of the Author of "Peek-a-Boo."

New York, Feb. 19.—William J.
Scanlan, the actor, died today at Bloomington Asylum, where he had been a patient for the last six years. He broke down after finishing a Christmas-night performance and was taken to the asylum about three weeks afterward. He passed through the different stages of paresis, and for the last two years not recognized anyone, even his wife, who had been a constant visitor at his bedside. He was 42 years old and was born in Springfield, Mass. He was known in his youth as the "boy wonder," because of his vocal ability. His ambition carried him into the legitimate drama and he produced several of Bartley Campbell's plays. He was managed by Augustus Pitou during the last 12 years of his stage career.
He was the author of many popular songs, one of which was the widely-known "Peek-a-Boo."

Cotton Burned at Genoa.

Genoa, Feb. 19.—Six thousand bales of cotton stored in a warehouse here took fire today by spontaneous combustion. The loss will amount to about $180,000. The burned cotton comprised 4,500 bales from New Orleans, ex-Spanish steamer Miguel M. Pinillos, and 1,500 bales from Savannah, ex-British steamer Buckingham, which arrived January 16.

The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home as in it we have a certain and sure cure for coughs, colds, whooping cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr.
King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a score of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Lindau advertisers a fresh lot of peanut brittle today.

Matthews, Chisholm & Stroud are talking about Trilby hats in their ad today.

The Karger Concert at the Normal and Industrial College is the attraction for tonight.

Miss Sadie Hanes, of Winston, stopped at the Benbow yesterday with Miss Annie Purnell of Raleigh.

Let us have stepping stones across Fayetteville street, where South Elm crosses the C. F. and Y. V. railroad.

Prof. Ernest Brockmann, of Columbia, S. C., attended the funeral of his father yesterday and expects to return home tonight or tomorrow.

As usual the Greensboro hotels were crowded over Sunday, the parlors being forced into service as sleeping apartments on Saturday night.

Sunday hours will be observed tomorrow at the postoffice, it being the anniversary of the birth of George Washington. The banks will also be closed.

The following parties were arrested Saturday night by Policeman Scott: Eugene Dixon, fighting; Preston Cole, stealing a chicken; Stephen Rogers, drunk and down.

Odell Hardware Company enlarge their space in The Telegram today to tell the people where to buy and what to buy in the hardware line and kindred branches. See their ad on this page.

All the latest spring styles in Knox hats just received at C. M. Vanstory & Co's., sole agents for Greensboro. Winter suits and spring overcoats for men and boys at your own price. Read their new ad today.

Eight of the most charming young ladies of Greensboro Female College, chaperoned by Miss Fleming, took dinner at the Benbow today. They are as follows: Misses Mary Cole, Dora Dawson, Cora Fields, Lillian Grizzelle Burton, Kathleen Moore, Della Walker and Bessie Miller.

Joe Lee, the Chinese washee man, had on his war paint today, and was cursing and abusing a colored man on the sidewalk near the mayor's office. Quite a crowd congregated to witness a scrap, but Officer Scott, who has a habit of interfering in such matters, came along and gently led the Chinaman away. The mayor will name the damages.

People who appreciate news while it is news are saying complimentary things about The Telegram, which gives telegraphic news up to the hour of going to press. The news of the Maine disaster published in this paper this afternoon, is the substance, largely, of what the morning papers will contain tomorrow. Thus it is every day, and the people are finding it out. Stick a pin here.

Dr. McIver Off for Chattanooga.

President McIver leaves tonight for Chattanooga, Tenn., where he will read a paper tomorrow before the department of school supervisors of the national association which meets there. The title of the Doctor's paper is "A Better System of Supervision of Public Schools in the South."

It is customary for the educational association to meet on Washington's birthday, because that is a holiday, with most supervisors.

SUPERIOR COURT OPENS.

Judge William Smith O'Brien Robinson Delivers a Warm Charge.

Superior court opened here this morning with His Honor Judge W. S. O'Brien Robinson on the bench. Judge Robinson in the course of his remarks to the grand jury took occasion to pay his respects to the newspaper fraternity. Judge Robinson has been rather harshly handled by the press in some quarters but so far as evidences have appeared on the outside the press has not been the first to strike.

His Honor's remarks to the grand jury were lengthy and covered a wide range of topics.

The judge said that if a newspaper man was ever convicted by the jury and the case came before him he would see that the newspaper man did at least one honest day's work on the roads.

Judge Robinson charged especially against those who sell cigarettes to those under the legal age, against illegal sales of whiskey and against cruelty to animals. Whatever might be the opinion of some other parts of his charge these details will meet with the heartiest approval. The law against cruelty to animals, the judge said, was alright but was not enforced and he pertinently added that "cruelty to animals was an offense against the laws of God and man." His Honor also charged against free passes, as is his custom. Taken as a whole it was a rather remarkable charge but somewhat too racy to print in full.

MAKING A RECORD.

An Enterprise that Home People Are Patronizing.

The sales of the Simpson-Shields Shoe Company yesterday amounted $2,673. This while a good day was not greatly disproportionate to other days in its sales. This firm has only been in business something like a year. When they began there were many Job's comforters to say "you can not make a living here." The sequel shows quite the contrary. The business of the firm has shown a steady growth from the very beginning. They keep five traveling men on the road all the time but a large part of their business is made up of mail orders and so careful are they in filling orders that when customers are secured they are always retained.

This is the only firm in the state that wholesales shoes exclusively and it is gratifying to know that they are receiving so large a share of the patronage of the state. This is as it should be. Tarheel merchants are beginning to learn that when goods can be had at home for the same money as in New York or Baltimore and save freight, it pays to buy at home.

"A Night Off."

Augustin Daly is perhaps the most remarkable man in the theatrical profession today in that he owns and occupies solely with his own company, the most exclusive and high priced theatre in New York, where nothing but his own plays and productions are seen. It is true that during every theatrical season several of the most important and interesting of Shakespeare's plays are given in a thoroughly modern way, and in which Mr. Daly's masterly hand in revising much of the dialogue, many of the scenes, costumes, etc., is evident all of which tends to please the present generation. At the Academy of Music on Friday, Feb. 25th, one of Augustin Daly's greatest comedies "A Night Off," will be presented with a company of artists seldom seen together in any one company. Admission $1.00, 75c, 50c and Children 25c.

Two Talks By Major Bingham.

Major Bingham, Superintendent of Bingham School, Asheville, spent last night in the city as the guest of Dr. McIver. He spoke before the young Woman's Christian Association at the Normal College last night and this morning lectured before the College on the "English Letter and English Literature." The Major is a scholarly gentleman and thoroughly entertaining talker. He left on the noon train for Burlington. The Major had not been here before since moving his school to Asheville.

To Build an Annex.

The growth of Centenary Sunday School has made it necessary to enlarge the church or otherwise provide for more room. The official board of the church have taken the matter under consideration and have decided to build an annex to be used as class rooms. The Telegram is pleased to note the necessity of this move. The work is now in the hands of a building committee and the work is expected to be done at once.

Karger Concert Tonight.

The Karger Concert company arrived Saturday and is stopping at the Benbow. The company comes highly recommended. Those wishing to attend the concert at the Normal college tonight will recall that arrangements have been with the livery stables to run hacks at a ten cent fare. Tickets fifty cents at the door.

Red Letter Sale
Dress Goods and Silks

at BROWN'S

(Cox-Ferree Dry Goods Co.'s old stand.)

February 16 to March 1.

Cox-Ferree Dry Goods Co. had the largest stock of dress goods in the city. To this has been added the stock carried by Sample Brown Mercantile Co. The combined stocks is entirely too large for any one store to carry. In order to materially reduce this stock, we will begin on Wednesday, Feb. 16th, and continue till March 1st, what we will term our

Red Letter Sale.

All Woolen Dress Goods and Silks will be marked in plain large Red Figures and the price will be so much lower than their real value that you will see at once that you cannot afford to leave without buying. This will be the biggest slaughter of prices ever attempted in this city.
